I would like my dog to learn to be:

A family member has a disability/medical condition
and we want to train our dog to assist this person.

Someone is currently at home all day

Yes No

If no, please describe below how you will provide adequate supervision while your puppy is young.

An adult dog is usually okay to be at home alone for up to 8 hours, but a young puppy will need to be let out every three hours during the day at first. If you can't meet your puppy's needs at this time, it can make it extremely difficult to house train your dog properly. Puppies also need a lot of one-on-one time so they can practice their social skills and training.

If your work commitments mean you are out of the house from 8am to 6pm when your dog is fully grown, you will need to have a long-term arrangement with someone else to let your dog out in the middle of the day.

Allergies Yes No

If a member of your family has allergies, we can arrange for them to meet the parents of the prospective puppy to test their reaction.

Who will care for your dog if you go away on holiday etc.?

Had a puppy before? Yes No

Describe colour preference (if any)

I will:

Spay/neuter

Vasectomy/hyst

Leave entire

Please be aware that if you want to keep your dog entire, it will need extra work in socialisation and obedience training and close supervision throughout its life. We don't sell dogs as breeding prospects unless conditions are met and terms agreed upon.
